To friends and members of Alexander Study Clubs around the world:

It is with great pleasure that I share with you some very important news. After serious discussions with several prominent orthodontic companies, I have made the decision to partner with American Orthodontics (AO) in the future. This company has a proud history of excellence in their management team and the products they produce. They have dealers and sales reps throughout the world that are very familiar with the materials we use in our system. Also, we are in discussions with AO concerning new bracket designs as well as new archwire sequencing and other innovative products. Some additional good news is that sons Chuck and Moody and nephew Cliff will be working with American in their respective private offices as well as in their teaching at their orthodontic departments ...Universities of Colorado, Baylor and St. Louis.

With this new relationship we are working diligently to get back in contact with our international groups around the world. If you know others who would like to be on our email address list, please contact us.

Also, contact your American Orthodontic dealer (www.americanortho.com) and find out when I may be coming to your area.
